

KRISTIAN LAU NIELSEN is a Research Fellow at the Corvinus Institute for Advanced Studies. He holds an MA in contemporary history from the University of Southern Denmark, and a PhD in political science from the University of Tartu.

He has previously worked in Estonia, the United States, Denmark and Bosnia-Herzegovina. His research has mainly focused on European integration, EU foreign policy and transatlantic relations.

He has co-edited two books, and his articles have appeared in various journals, incl. European Foreign Affairs Review, Journal of Transatlantic Studies and Policy Studies.

