

KRISZTINA SZENTKIRÁLYI-SZÁSZ EU expert, project leader. She obtained her MSc degree in biology and chemistry from the Faculty of Natural Sciences of the Eötvös Loránd University, Budapest. She participated in postgraduate training in EU and higher education financing at the University of Bath (UK), and also at the European Institute of Public Administration as an expert in public administration.

She gained experience as a senior manager, CEO, expert, researcher, and consultant in many fields, both in the central public administration and in the public and private corporate sectors. These areas are in particular: strategic planning, EU development policy, ecosystem building, innovation, indicator planning, measurement and evaluation, fundraising, tendering activities, digitization, public administration development, corruption prevention, education system, sustainable development.

